

PENNSYLVANIA COMMISSION FOR COMMUNITY COLLEGES

Founded in 1966

Four Campuses:

- Allegheny Campus, North Shore
- Boyce Campus, Monroeville
- North Campus, McCandless
- South Campus, West Mifflin

Four Centers:

- Braddock Hills Center
- Homewood-Brushton Center
- Washington County Center
- West Hills Center

CCAC offers more than 160 programs of study across six diverse career paths

Since 2000, CCAC has served 527,516 students, of whom 404,663 were Allegheny County residents — one in three county residents 18 years and older

Average class size: 16 students
www.ccac.edu

Focus on: Community College of Allegheny County

“From its modest beginnings in 1966, the Community College of Allegheny County has grown to become one of Pennsylvania’s preeminent community colleges and is increasingly being recognized as one of the nation’s leading postsecondary educational institutions. From groundbreaking student success initiatives to top-ranked academic and career programs to serving a student population that surpasses 40,000 per year, CCAC continues to be the college of choice for nearly one out of three adults in the Greater Pittsburgh metropolitan region. I am proud to serve as the president of this remarkable institution.”
—CCAC President Dr. Quintin B. Bullock

A comprehensive two-year college with four campuses and three centers located throughout Allegheny County as well as an additional center location in Washington County, CCAC offers more than 160 degree, certificate, diploma and transfer programs across a diverse range of disciplines including those in the arts and humanities; business; science, technology, engineering and math; health; education, social and behavioral sciences; and the skilled trades.

CCAC graduates have transferred to the nation’s most prestigious colleges and universities, have obtained the most academically challenging and competitive degrees and can be found at leading companies, organizations and institutions throughout the nation. Half a million strong and growing, CCAC alumni are actively engaged in every sector of society, providing leadership to scores of economic, scientific, civic and philanthropic entities both in the Pittsburgh region and around the world.

For 50 years CCAC has flourished, becoming the educational powerhouse it is today—a nationally renowned two-year college dedicated to serving all members of the community. CCAC is honored to have one of the largest veteran student populations in the state and takes pride in consistently being recognized as a diverse and supportive college, as well as ranking among the nation’s top 20 community colleges for the number of individuals graduating in nursing and other health-related professions.

